WEST AUSTRALIAN STATION STAYS

Sheep and cattle stations have been the backbone of Western Australia's outback for over 130 years – and hospitality is nothing new for them. Welcoming the shearers, jackaroos, governesses, head stockmen, neighbours, mail contractors and distinguished guests is a way of life for the people who live in these remote areas.

A diverse range of accommodation offers a multitude of experiences. Grand old homesteads present comfortable respite whilst you watch the day to day work of running a station. Self-contained cottages are relaxed and personable. Get comfy down at the shearers' quarters and imagine life back in the days of booming wool prices. Most stations will also offer you a patch to roll out your swag or set up your camper, surrounded by stunning scenery and whistling birds in the trees above.

Despite the fact you could sit back all day and soak up the atmosphere of the outback, the list of activities you can partake in is endless. Four wheel driving, hiking, mountain-bike riding, birdwatching, painting, horse treks, walk-trails, guided tours, wildflowers, stargazing or perhaps even lend a hand and get involved in station life. No matter your choice you can be assured of sharing hundreds of thousands of acres with only a few others.

However you choose to spend your time at a Station Stay you can be guaranteed of an experience like no other. Forget the hustle and bustle of city life and allow the wide sweeping plains and ruggedly beautiful landscapes of these Western Australian Stations Stays capture your imagination.

BULLARA STATION STAY

1

Location: Burkett Rd, Exmouth Gulf, WA
GPS: 22°40'50.2"S 114°02'22.2"E

Accommodation:
A mix of spacious powered/unpowered campsites, self-contained cottages, repurposed shearers lodge and luxury safari huts. There is something for everyone.

Experience:
There is something for everyone at Bullara Station Stay, a place of gathering, connection, and genuine outback hospitality. For three generations, the Shallcross family have called this slice of the Pilbara, at the heart of the Gascoyne Region, home. Perfectly positioned 65km north of Coral Bay and 86km south of Exmouth, Bullara is the ideal base for exploring the Ningaloo Reef and its surrounds. Owners Tim and Edwina have built on their cattle enterprise by developing a unique experience that bridges the gap between city life and the Australian outback. With passion, grit, and heart, they've created a station stay renowned for its warm hospitality, authentic dining, and welcoming accommodation. The Bullara team works tirelessly to ensure every guest feels at home, creating memories that linger long after the visit. Open seasonally from April to October, the station continues to evolve each year, offering something new with every season. Whether you're just passing through or planning a longer stay, the Shallcross family looks forward to welcoming you to Bullara.

FRASER RANGE STATION

4

Location: Fraser Range Station, Eyre Highway, Norseman WA

GPS: 32°01'43.2"S 122°47'45.6"E

Accommodation:
Choose from 100-year-old stone room accommodation, queen ensuites, single and double rooms, and self-contained units, along with powered and unpowered campsites, fully equipped kitchens, BBQs, clean ablutions, and plenty of space for families, groups, or a peaceful bushland escape.

Experience:
Fraser Range Station is a hidden gem halfway between Norseman and Balladonia, surrounded by the largest hardwood forest in the world. Towering salmon gums, blackbutts and gimlets rise 20 to 30 metres high, sheltering a rich variety of wildlife and creating a landscape unlike anywhere else on the Nullarbor Plain. The station is steeped in history, first founded by the Dempster brothers in 1872 and home to many original stone buildings and dams still standing strong today. Guests can explore the station on one of four self-guided walks, each offering a different view of the granite hills, open grass flats and majestic Mt Pleasant. A hearty homecooked dinner is served nightly in the dining room, followed by drinks at their licensed Nullarbar. Fraser Range Station is the perfect stopover or stay-longer destination for travellers crossing the Nullarbor — a place of history, forest, and peace in the heart of the West.

Tips for Travelling with Pets

- Make sure you have emergency contact information for local veterinarians in the area.
- Keep pets on a lead, especially where wildlife or livestock may be present.
- Pack food, water, leash, bowl, bedding, and waste bags.
- Be aware of baiting: Some rural areas use poison baits to control wildlife.
- Make sure your pet is up-to-date with vaccinations and flea/tick treatments, especially when travelling in remote areas.
- Pets are not permitted in national parks.

Scan the QR code for more information on pet-friendly station stays.

PLANNING YOUR JOURNEY

The Australian Outback offers vast, spectacular scenery, unique wildlife, and unforgettable adventures. However, travelling in remote areas can be challenging, so it's important to be well prepared. Read the following road safety tips below to help ensure you have a safe and enjoyable journey.

- Book accommodation, or check availability prior to arrival.
- Inform friends or family of your intended travel route.
- Check in with local visitor centres while planning.
- Plan your route with up-to-date maps of the region.
- Check road condition reports before departure; condition of unsealed roads varies according to weather, usage & grading.
- Reduce speed on unsealed roads; be cautious of hidden dangers.
- Dawn, dusk, and night driving are the times to be most aware – watch for kangaroos, cattle, sheep, and emus.
- Give road trains plenty of room if overtaking, allow at least 1km of clear road ahead.
- Carry emergency supplies: first aid kit, spare tyre, tools, water.
- Try avoiding travelling in the hottest part of year.
- Plan fuel stops and provisions carefully.
- Take breaks to prevent fatigue.
- Carry emergency supplies with you.

Scan the QR code or visit the website for further details on safety on the roads.

GASCOYNE MURCHISON

OUTBACK -PATHWAYS-

OUTBACK PIONEERING AT ITS BEST!

The Gascoyne Murchison Outback Pathways feature three self-drive trails which traverse the red heart of Western Australia. Each trail is complemented by a series of roadside, interpretative signage, which opens your eyes to the wonders of this ancient landscape.

KINGSFORD SMITH MAIL RUN

- CARNARVON TO MEEKATHARRA -

Follow Kingsford Smtih along the Kingsford Smith Mail Run. Smithy, as he was known, once trundled along this very route on his mail run from Carnarvon east to Meekatharra, via Gascoyne Junction.

WOOL WAGON PATHWAY

- GERALDTON TO EXMOUTH -

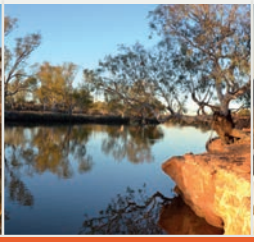

The Wool Wagon Pathway epitomises the true Australian outback. It is a land of distinct horizons, glorious vistas, unlimited sunshine, wondrous dawns and sunsets and spectacular night skies.

MINER'S PATHWAY

- PAYNE'S FIND TO MEEKATHARRA -

Follow the Miner's Pathway and explore the legacy of this remarkable period through the grand old buildings and the graveyards, the rusting machinery and the rich stories of those who lived in these whirlwind times.
